BOY SCOUTS' CAMPFIRE DISPLAY

"We Exist And We Do Things"

FERVENT APPEAL TO HONG KONG PUBLIC

The Hong Kong Boy Scouts Association showed the local public that they "existed and were doing things" when they staged a very successful Campfire Display on the Hong Kong Cricket Club ground on Saturday. The display was attended by His Excellency the Chief Scout of Hong Kong, Sir Andrew Caldecott, Kt., C.M.G., C.B.E., and Lady Caldecott, who were accompanied by Captain W. J. R. Cragg, A.D.C. Among others who watched the open-air show were noted H. E. The Rt. Rev. H. Valtoria (Vicar Apostolic of Hong Kong), The Hon. Dr. R. H. Kote-wall, Mr. R. R. Todd, the Rev. H. W. Baines, Mr. A. el-Arculli and Professor G. A. C. Herklots.

The programme was well planned and carried out most efficiently. The Rev. N. V. Halward, Commissioner, and other executive Scouters of the Hong Kong Boy Scouts Association were busy figures on the scene and they were ably assisted by Fleet Scoutmaster Lawder and the Deep Sea Scouts from His Majesty's ships in port. The entire display was a tribute to the efforts of those who gave much of their time to present Hong Kong with something different in the line of entertainment and to show them the value of Scouting for boys.

GRAND HOWL

The programme commenced with drummers calling their packs to form a huge circle and sound their Grand Howl, followed by a D. S. S. bugler blowing the Rally which brought the Scouts into the football arena. After God Save the King had been played the band of the Royal Ulster Rifles, present by kind permission of Lt.-Col. R. M. Rodwell and Officers, His Excellency was escorted to the platform where he said, "British Scouts, I have very great pleasure in declaring this Campfire open." A huge campfire, most artistically devised, was then illuminated by electricity.

Led by Commissioner the Rev. Halward from the platform, the whole gathering of Cubs, Scouts and Guides then gave the "Be Prepared" cry which they did with the utmost enthusiasm. Among the chorus songs given were "Jemima" (to the tune of the Soldier's Chorus from "Faust"), "The Sound of London's Bells", "The Soldier's Chorus", "Companions, Companions, Gull, Gull, Gull" followed by roars and yells of Scouts in various parts of the world.

BAND CONCERT AT PENINSULA

East Lancashires
Entertain

The slogan "such popularity must be deserved" could be well applied to the attendance at the Peninsula Hotel last night, when the band of the 2nd Battalion, The East Lancashire Regiment played to a capacity crowd.

Tables began to be filled long before the opening number, and patrons kept pouring in to enjoy the concert.

The concert is the first of the series to be held each Sunday throughout the winter season and the management of the Peninsula Hotel is to be congratulated on their foresight in bringing this type of entertainment once again to music-lovers.

The lounge of the hotel is one of the largest in China, and a large crowd can be easily accommodated, while the fact that admission is free enhances the rendition of such delectable arrangements in the classics under the able directing of Mr. A. B. Yule, the conductor of the band.

KING'S VISITS TO DOMINIONS

Matter Now Under Consideration

London, Nov. 7.
It is learned authoritatively that the possibility of a series of visits by King Edward to Canada, South Africa, Australia and New Zealand is at present being discussed, but as the King's visit to India will probably take place in the autumn of 1937, visits to other Dominions cannot take place until 1938, in which year the King will probably visit Canada as the senior Dominion.

The government is considering the question as to how far it is advisable for the King to be absent from the United Kingdom for a protracted period.

HARBOUR EXCITEMENT

Ferry Sounds Four
Blasts

While crossing the harbour on a Star ferry launch in the early hours of Saturday morning on their return from work, three members of the "Hong Kong Daily Press" were roused from their sleepiness by the sound of four blasts coming from another vessel in the harbour. The blasts were repeated and excitement ran high.

On dashing to the front of the Star ferry, the Solar Star, it was seen that another ferry, on her voyage from Hunghom to Hong Kong, was circling just off Holts Wharf, giving indication that some person had either fallen or jumped into the harbour.

It was then about 6.10 a.m. The Solar Star veered to starboard and proceeded with all speed to the scene. On the deck below, squatting on the bow of the vessel, was a seaman who had a lifebuoy in readiness.

In the meantime, a launch and a waterboat had arrived on the scene. A seaman was observed to dive in the water from the former vessel and after a few minutes had elapsed the launch drew up alongside the Hunghom ferry, which then continued on her journey without further do and the Solar Star returned to Kowloon.

Enquiries at Tamshatun, Hunghom and Central revealed that no report was made to the police authorities.

HARVEY-LEWIS FIGHT

Great Boxing Event
At Wembley

London, Nov. 7.
Thirty three years ago a Cornishman, Bob Fitzsimmons, won the world's light-heavyweight boxing championship.

On Monday another Cornishman, Len Harvey, will attempt to wrest the title which is held by the American negro, John Henry Lewis. Harvey's vast experience—he has fought four hundred contests—should prevail against the negro, but the sixty victories scored by Lewis in his rise to the championship will stamp him as one of the most skillful men of his class.

Harvey is 29 years old. He has a polished defence and a powerful left hook. Lewis is 22. He can make fierce two-handed attacks. Both trained assiduously and are perfectly fit.

A crowd of 12,000 will watch the fight it is expected at Wembley Pool. Jack Smith will be the referee.

KEELUNG INCIDENT

Police Deny
Allegations

STATEMENT SIGNED "WILLINGLY"

The "North China Daily News" of November 4, published the following article written by the Domei News Service from Keelung, Formosa, dated November 3:

Police here to-day again denied that they had beaten three British sailors on the night of October 7-8 in an alleged effort to obtain a signed statement regarding the bluejackets' alleged failure to pay a taxicab fare.

The sailors, police said, recounting the whole affair, admitted their misconduct to Lieut. Pat Beresford, officer on duty in H.M.S. Bruce on the night of the "incident." The statement, embodying their admission to the British officer, was subsequently signed by the three "willingly," officials here stated.

Sworn statements of the five Japanese policemen involved in the case, denying that they had manhandled the men, were included in a full report on the case submitted to the Government-General by Mr. Kanjiro Fujita, Governor of Taihoku Province, on October 19, it was further revealed. Mr. Hideji Takahashi, district superintendent of police, also appended a report denying the British allegations.

The trouble, the report said, arose following the failure of the sailors to pay one Ichiro Tai, a taxicab driver, in whose car they had ridden from Taihoku to Keelung.

PRaise FOR A.D.C.

The A.D.C. show has been partly responsible for so much activity in the hotels during the last week, also, with the addition of the American Navy in the Colony the parties seem to have been fast and furious. The A.D.C. show drew large crowds every night and what a marvellous show it was. Great praise is due to all those who took part in it, and also to Teddy Smith-Wright for the production, and let us hope that before very long we shall have another one presented to us.

TO GET RID OF STOMACH TROUBLES

An English Doctor writes:—

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after most of my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

(Signed) Dr. H. G. M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

THE English doctor is the most conservative medical man in the world, and when he not only recommends but personally uses a remedy there can be no more convincing proof of its efficacy. This doctor is but one of many who constantly advise the use of 'Bisurated' Magnesia in all cases of indigestion. Most stomach troubles are caused by acidity, and the reason why 'Bisurated' Magnesia gives quick relief is that it instantly neutralises excess acid and soothes, heals and strengthens the inflamed stomach lining. Nothing could be simpler, safer or surer. If you suffer with indigestion or stomach disorder of any kind put your faith in European science and make an 'on' of your troubles by taking 'Bisurated' Magnesia after eating or whenever pain is felt.

ONE RECORD EQUALLED

Keen Finishes Witnessed On Hard Track

SMALL FIELDS-POOR ATTENDANCE

One record was equalled on Saturday at the Tenth Extra Race Meeting of the Hong Kong Jockey Club when Mr. S. C. Liang on Perfect Day, sprang a surprise and won the Cantala Handicap for Australian ponies in 1 min. 17 2/5 secs. over six furlongs. He paid the second highest dividend of the day ($33.60) which, on the whole were remarkably small. The highest ($59.40) was paid by Tyne (Mr. S. L. Yuen) in the fifth race (Kent Handicap) over six furlongs for China ponies.

Some keen finishes were witnessed, but the attendance was poor in spite of the glorious weather, and this might be attributed to the small entries for many of the events on the programme.

Mr. S. C. Liang with three wins was the most successful jockey, followed by Mr. D. Black with two wins.

The "Daily Double" paid $297.60, sixty-one tickets being sold on the first leg, and only 11 on second.

The band of the 2nd Battalion, the Royal Welch Fusiliers, by kind permission of Lieut.-Col. D. M. C. Barchard and officers, played a pleasing programme of music.

SURREY HANDICAP

Six starters got away to a splendid start with Oak Bay in the lead, followed by Gladiator, King's Warden and Wild Life. Oak Bay increased her lead to two lengths, and going up the incline this pony was still running strongly. Round the village bend she was leading by three lengths.

Gladiator who was nicely placed with the rest of the field came into the home stretch full of spirit and passed the leader some 100 yards from the post. Oak Bay was obviously "all out" and could not stave off the challenge. Cassius's Beauty finished strongly but Liang had left it a little too late and was "pipped" by Oak Bay into third place. The former carried the public's money.

NULLAH NULLAH HANDICAP

The first race for Australian ponies drew a poor entry only four facing the starter for a six furlong gallop. Australian Boy got off into an early lead. At the Rock the four ponies were well bunched together. Round the bend Derby Day came into her own and won comfortably.

Australian Boy and Vixen Tor were left to fight it out for second place and fight they did! The two ran neck to neck over the last 100 yards, but near the finishing post Proulx on Vixen Tor was seen to slip sideways in his saddle and was nearly unseated. His mount faltered and Australian Boy past the post a short head in the lead for second place. Both ponies ran very close to each other in the fight to the finish.

HONG KONG GRIFFINS CUP

Another race with only four entries. Bear Claw sprang into an early lead with Honeycomb Eve and King's Lead next in that order. Approaching the incline Boolat Bay lay last but past the Rock she improved her position to third place. However Bear Claw with only half a length lead from Honeycomb Eve as the Rock steadily increased the lead round the bend and into the home stretch. Black actually eased his mount up to win comfortably. Honeycomb Eve came in next, many lengths ahead of King's Lead. Bear Claw who won in the previous two meets, gave ample evidence of its superiority by the easy manner in which it won on Saturday.

NORFOLK HANDICAP

Six ponies got off to a good start with The Hero in the lead, followed closely by Gold Sovereign, Celebration Time and Night View. Night View improved to third place up the incline, and into the straight The Hero was still in the lead. The Hero won by a length from Night View, a game second. Sylvandale came up nicely to occupy third place.

KENT HANDICAP

The first leg of the "Daily Double" saw eleven starters—the second largest field of the day. Tyne led at the start with King's Bounty and Great Hall next. Past the Rock that order was kept. In the home straight Tyne led by some lengths from King's Bounty and came in first full of spirit, although challenged at the commencement of the home straight. S. L. Yuen, the jockey rode a well-judged race having gone to the post without a whip. King's Bounty came in second with High Honour a good third.

Tyne paid $59.40 for its win—the highest dividend of the day.

CANTALA HANDICAP

Eight "Aussies" took the field for this event. Blandford got into the lead, with Perfect Day and Streamline close on her heels. Up the incline Double Finesse improved her pace and running extremely well was in the lead on rounding the final bend for home. Perfect Day and Racing Heart were next.

In a great finish that aroused intense enthusiasm from the spectators S. Y. Liang (Perfect Day) urged his mount into the lead just opposite the stand and "pipped" Double Finesse for a win. The time (1:17 2/5) equalled the course record set up by Bobnik Star.

Racing Heart occupied the third place. Liang was given a grand ovation when he was led to the weighing-in room.

SUSSEX HANDICAP

For the second leg of the "Daily Double" ten ponies faced the starter. Popular Star was early in the lead followed by Cassius and Emergency Call. At the Rock the ponies were well butched, with Cassius and Emergency Call gradually displacing the leader. Into the home stretch Cassius led until near the winning post when Emergency Call finished with a spurt to win, followed closely by Gold Star who just beat Cassius into second place.

Popular Star, carrying the public's money, disappointed.

SUFFOLK HANDICAP

The last race of the day drew the largest entry, twelve starting. Diogenes got into the lead, followed by Pride of Tsingtao. At the Rock the field was well together, it being a short race over five furlongs. In an exciting finish which saw the ponies still bunched coming into the home stretch, H. C. Pih on Gold Coin was in a slight lead. In the last 100 yards, Liang pushed Pride of Tsingtao into the lead and won an exciting race by a head. A short head separated Diogenes and Gold Coin, second and third respectively. The winner paid $23.10.

MOSCOW ARREST

Berlin, Nov. 8. News has been received in Warsaw that 100 new arrests have been made in Moscow. These arrests are said to have been made in connection with the leaflets that are being distributed to hundreds in Moscow factories, sharply attacking the Soviet Government and declaring that its foreign policy is too weak, especially with regard to Spain. The appeals conclude with the sentence "Support the only true Communist Party, the party of Trotsky and Sinoviev."

The printers and distributors of these leaflets were found to be 100 students and workers, who will be transported to forced labour camps in Siberia.

The Warsaw correspondent states this incident only serves to demonstrate the growing hostility towards Stalin, and in this connection it is interesting to learn that Stalin's name is omitted from the great number of slogans being prepared for banners and placards for the celebration of the Soviet Anniversary. Whereas his name was always predominant in recent years, this time emphasis is again laid on the name of Lenin.—Transocean News Service.

SUBMARINE WARFARE

London, Nov. 8. A protocol dealing with the "humanising" of submarine warfare was published here as a White Book on Friday. The Protocol merely consists of two clauses. The first declares: "In actions against merchant ships submarines are obliged to strictly observe the international rule to appear on the surface."

The second clause is as follows: "Warships, whether surface ships or submarines are in future not permitted to sink or disable merchant ships before the crew and passengers of the ships and the ships papers are rescued. Exception is when merchant ships after due warning obstinately refuse to turn by."

where the troops have occupied Frenchillas on Thursday. The fighting was "lively" in Somosierra, while the Government attack in Buñago is stated to have been repulsed the enemy forces losing 150 killed.—Transocean News Service.

RED PLOT IN FRANCE

Press Disclosure

Paris, Nov. 8. A plot for an armed Communist uprising in France was disclosed in a sensational article in the weekly "Gringoire".

The article alleges that the Communist, M. Marty, who was a former French Army officer, competed his plans for the organisation of the Communist Revolutionary Army this month. The plan provides for a utilisation of the so-called "Metropolitan Red Belt", i.e. the Paris suburbs, where the population are mainly Communist, for encirclement of the capital. The paper adds that Marty, who was until recently, a representative of the Third International in Spain, was relieved of this post recently so as to be able to devote himself exclusively to the organisation of a revolution in France.

Funds of 10 million francs, regarding the spending of which Marty has reported directly to the Third International in Moscow, had been placed at his disposal, adds the paper, stressing that the strength of this revolutionary army in France must be estimated at about 80,000. For the equipment of this army the French revolutionary Communists are said to have ordered, through Switzerland and Belgium 10,000 rifles, 3,500 revolvers, 1,000 sub-machine guns, 750,000 revolver cartridges, 30,000 belts of ammunition for the sub-machine guns, 20,000 daggers and 150,000 metres of telephone cable.

The paper concludes its sensational article with a warning to the public to be prepared for all eventualities, since the equipment of the army of revolutionaries will probably be completed in the course of November.—Transocean News Service.

SPANISH WAR REPORTS

Insurgent Advance

Salamanca, Nov. 6. The columns of the Nationalist troops resumed their advance on Madrid from Getafe and Cerro de los Angeles on Friday morning. By noon they had reached the military aerodrome of Cuatro Vientos, the military training grounds of Carabanchel and the Madrid suburb Villaverde.

The hastily retreating Reds offered resistance mostly by rifle fire and their artillery remained more or less inactive during the whole fight.

Red Militiamen captured by the Nationalists declare that the Communists and Anarchists have already begun to plunder the shops in the central part of the city. Grave fears are entertained here for the lives of the political hostages in the hands of the Madrid Government. Planes of the Nationalists report that, when flying over Madrid, they saw street fighting going on. It is believed that this fighting took place between adherents and opponents of Largo Caballero.—Transocean News Service.

ALL MUST FIGHT

Salamanca, Nov. 6. Not only men, but also women and children must fight against the Nationalists, was the essence of an appeal made to the civil population in Madrid through the radio on Thursday night. If not enough weapons are available, the combatants in this category are requested to equip themselves with stones, sticks and such. In any case no one must remain inactive during the final fight.—Transocean News Service.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN

RUSSIAN TANKS DISAPPOINT

Berlin, Nov. 8. The employment of Russian tanks, upon which the Madrid Government set a great deal, proved to be an utter failure, said a German news agency's special correspondent in an article from Sevilla.

The tanks used in the latest engagements were manned by the Red Militia since following the first defeats, the Soviet crews refused to man the tanks. A close examination shows that the armoured plating is of very poor material and unable to resist fire, or to grant protection.—Transocean News Service.

AGITATION AGAINST GERMANY

London, Nov. 8. The Communist agitation which has been enacted in England recently against Germany, and which is also supported by the Labour Party, has caused demonstrations in front of the German Embassy in London Thursday night.

The number of demonstrators was however comparatively small, so that the police had no trouble in dispersing them, but not before they had broken a number of windows. Three persons including a woman, were arrested.—Transocean News Service.

"MOONLIGHT ON THE PRAIRIE"

Dick Foran, the singing cowboy, comes to the Majestic theatre to-day, in "Moonlight on the Prairie," with which Warner Bros. introduce a new type of Western drama.

To a thrilling Western drama of hard riding, roping, two gun fighters and romantic ladies, Warner Bros. have added the songs of the old West, two of them specially written for the production by two noted song writing teams, M. K. Jerome and Joan Jasmyn and Vernon Spencer and Bob Nolan.

His leading woman is pretty red headed Sheila Mannors, also a daring rider who has done very capable work in many pictures. Others in the cast include George E. Stone, Joe Sawyer, Gordon Elliott, Joseph King, Robert Barrat and Dickie Jones.

D. Ross Lederman, an old hand at Westerns directed the picture which is a big production typical of all Warner Bros. films.

FILM AGREEMENT

Berlin, Nov. 6.

A short time ago an agreement was reached between Germany and Austria, providing that a number of Austrian films are allowed in Germany, and a proportional quota is granted German films in Austria.

Negotiations were then opened between film concerns in Germany and Czechoslovakia, and a draft agreement has now been reached and presented to the two Governments. The two main points under discussion are the extent of the reciprocal quotas and the question of transfer of receipts which is involved through the currency restrictions in force in both countries.

ITALO-HUNGARY RELATIONS

Rome, Nov. 6.

Several papers have published the statement, that in order to emphasize the friendly relations between Italy and Hungary, the recent visit of the Hungarian Regent, Admiral Horthy von Nagybanya, will not, as would be the case, if tradition were strictly preserved, be returned by the Italian Crown Prince Humberto, but by H.M. the King himself.

Although no official confirmation is as yet available, the impression in official circles is that the announcement is correct.

"PICCADILLY JIM"

Hollywood has learned to choose the best of stories and select the best material in them for its pictures.

This was definitely demonstrated with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's screen adaptation of "Piccadilly Jim" at the King's Theatre. The words of P. G. Wodehouse in the story made the whole reading world rock with laughter. The picture visualizes his comedy.

A stellar cast is worthy of the inimitable story. Robert Montgomery, in the title role, performed what cinema audiences must have considered his finest part, Madge Evans, opposite him, was delightful. Frank Morgan, of "The Great Ziegfeld" cast, appears with Billie Burke, widow of the famous Broadway impresario, in her first role under her new M-G-M contract. Eric Blore, Robert Benchley, Ralph Forbes and others give remarkably good performance in their respective roles.

The story of the clever young cartoonist created by Wodehouse is one that has sent uproarious laughter around the reading world. On the screen it is even more hilarious. "Piccadilly Jim" definitely established itself on its opening night as one of the most popular screen plays to reach this colony in recent years. It is amusing to a high degree. It has no other purpose and it succeeds admirably.

"THE ROAD TO GLORY"

The great love drama of which the great war "The Road To Glory" 20th Century Fox production is being shown to-day at the Queen's and Alhambra Theatres reveals itself as one of the outstanding cinema achievements of the year.

Painted against a background of the seething kaleidoscope of battle, no-man's land, and war-torn France, the film depicts love in all its phases. Love of heart-starved fighting men; love of a soldier father and hero son; love of a cause they all must serve; love of what our world calls Glory.

From this stirring foundation, the picture moves swiftly through a succession of episodes, each of which finds the dramatic intensity mounting ever higher. The conclusion is a fitting climax to an outstanding film.

"You do not see" "The Road to Glory"—you live it. All the strangeness of this drama, the night of its emotion, the fire of its stars, gets you, deep down inside.

FILM STAR DIVORCE

Miss Beatrix Thomson, the actress, is proceeding for a decree nisi against her husband, Mr. Claude Rains, the stage and screen actor. Mr. Rains in April obtained a decree of divorce in the New Jersey (U.S.A.) Court, alleging desertion, and afterwards married Miss Frances Grey, of New Jersey.

Miss Thomson is said to be bringing the suit because the American decree is not regarded as valid in this country.

ROOF GARDEN GALA

Saturday evening was a gala night in the Roof Garden of the Hong Kong Hotel with the extension until 3 a.m. and the first presentation of Bob Burnett and Eula Hoff who had come down from Shanghai, where possibly several people had seen them previously, but on Saturday night they were given a most enthusiastic welcome, and in return gave a very good performance of several dances ending up with the famous "Continental" dance as an encore. Bob and Eula gave a brilliant exhibition in modern dancing, tap dancing, acrobatic tap dancing and modern interpretation of rhythm. The crowd on the dance floor was terrific right up to the end, nobody seemed to want to go home at all, and proper dancing was out of the question, and even at a very late hour people were arriving in the hopes of dancing. The Addis were with Mr. "Tom" Martin and others including the Rees. Mrs. Mansfield who has just arrived with her husband a Deux. The American Navy seemed to be there in force and enjoying themselves immensely. Sir William Hornell arrived later in the evening with his nephew and they watched the dancing quietly. Mrs. Harrison, recently back from Shanghai, was looking her most attractive self in well, and were successful. It was lovely down at Happy Valley and not too hot as was expected, Mrs. Beck was one of the smartest and most striking people there, she was in white shark skin with coat to match of the same material and white hat with navy blue. Another smart person was Mrs. Taggart in an ensemble of light fawn with a small hat to match. Squadron Leader Dalzell having just returned from the North was there with his mother, Mr. Eric Nelson was among the bachelors there, also Mr. Rupert Stocker and Mr. Murphy. Mrs. Thompson was one who was in the fashion, hers being of navy blue with a large red feather, she was there with her husband who was being congratulated on all sides on his marvellous acting in the A.D.C. show. Miss Seagley in blue and white was there with Mr. Stafford Smith, Major and Mrs. Currie were also there, the latter in red and white.

LORD HORDER ON CORONERS

Legal Training Better Than Medical

Lord Horder, speaking at the annual dinner of the Coroners' Society of England and Wales at the Holborn Restaurant recently, said that he agreed with the Departmental Committee which had reported on the functions of coroners, that the office of coroner should be retained, states the "Morning Post."

"I do not think," he continued, "that there is any doubt in the mind of the intelligent man in the street that the office of coroner is necessary, and does redound to the honour and to the safety of the public."

"There are some cases in general which you cannot define. I do not think you can define what is natural death, and I say that deliberately as a doctor.

"I would not like to define what is natural death in general, but in particular it is dealt with by the coroner, who has to satisfy himself, and possibly a jury and the public, what is unnatural death. In particular it is not difficult, and we are convinced in the main.

"Then comes the question of who should be a coroner. Should he be a lawyer or should he be a doctor? I think that he should be a man with a certain temperament, disposition and calibre first. Whether he be a lawyer or a doctor, should come afterwards.

"I will say at once that I think the legal training is more important than medical training in your job."

CONSTABLE CHARGED

Bribery Alleged

An Indian constable, Walait Khan, B710, became enmeshed in the toils of the law when he was charged on Saturday before Mr. W. Schofield at the Central Magistracy on three counts of conspiracy and attempt to bribe and misconduct unbecoming a police officer.

It was alleged that on November 3, he conspired to obtain the sum of two cents from several hawkers, with the attempted assistance of Tsoi Wing Leung. Further allegations were that he had accepted bribes from October 7 until November 3.

Insp. Hourthan appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. W. A. MacKinnlay, of Messrs. Deacons, represented defendant.

A week's formal remand was granted, and bail was set at $250.

SALESMAN SENTENCED

Petty Thefts At China Emporium

For the theft of razor blades from the China Emporium, a salesman, Wong Chak Lam, 28, was sentenced to four months in gaol by Mr. K. Keen at the Central Magistracy on Saturday.

Mr. C. Y. Kwan appeared for the complainant, Mr. Kwan Shu, the manager of the China Emporium, and asked his Worship for the maximum sentence to be imposed on defendant.

He added that the theft was petty in itself, but they amounted to a large sum of money at the end of the fiscal year. Inventory was not regularly taken, and those small thefts could not be detected very easily.

Tong Chiu Yau, 30, professed ignorance to the knowledge that defendant had stolen the articles, and the hearing was adjourned until November 10.

MUI-TSAI CASE

Cruelty And Hard Work Alleged

$150 FINE IMPOSED

Fung Sam-mul, 38, married woman of No. 587 Canton Road, third floor, was brought before Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday for employing an unregistered "mui-tai," named Chu Pit alias Ah Yau, 17 years of age.

Inspector H. W. Fraser said that on November 5, the girl made a report at the Central Police Station alleging that she had been assaulted by her employer. Investigations proved that she was an unregistered "mui-tai."

According to the complainant's statement, she said that when she was 13 years old she was presented by her mother to a woman called Sai Yan for the sum of $100 in Canton money. This woman brought her to San Fong Village and there, left her with her mother-in-law. The girl remained there for 2 years and did the usual work a "mui-tai" was expected to do.

Sometimes, in 1934 she was brought to Hong Kong by the defendant's nephew and since then she had worked as a "mui-tai" for the defendant. She said that she had nothing to complain in regard to food, but she was forced to do hard work in washing clothes, floors, etc. she was assisted by an amah and both took their meals in the passageway. In addition to her work for the defendant, she had to work for the defendant's married daughter, who, lives opposite to their house. She was given no wages and any money that was received by her had to be returned to the defendant. She also had to wait on a young daughter of the house-hold, 12 years of age.

On November 4, at 3 p.m. she was accused of disturbing the grand-son. The defendant struck her, and that was why she made her report at the Central Police Station. She asked to be returned to her own parents.

The defendant had been in Hong Kong from 5 to 7 years and was a manager of a hotel in Des Voeux Road. "I don't think she can plead ignorance of the regulations," said Insp. Fraser. The defendant was fined $150.

ANTI-MUI TSAI SOCIETY

Full Report Of Annual Meeting

OFFICIALS ELECTED

The fifteenth annual general meeting of the Anti-Mui Tsai Society was held at the Chinese Y.W.C.A., Bonham Road, on Saturday night, when a general review of the past year's work was given, and the officials for 1936-1937 were elected.

In the absence of Mr. J. D. Bush, the Hon. English Secretary, Mr. S. Fu, the assistant secretary, presented his report, and urged the necessity of enforcing the registration of adopted daughters.

In the course of his speech, Mr. Fu said: "... The status of most of the so-called adopted-daughters and mui tsai is practical the same. They differ only in names. When the mistress of a mui tsai refused to admit the truth and produce the deed, which is kept in her possession only, the Government officials will spend hours to prove the truth.

A great percentage of the mistresses of mui tsais know how to teach their mui tsais to answer the S.C.A. inspectors' questions tactfully. The 1929 Mui Tsai Ordinance permits the owners of slave girls to be called "mothers" and the slave girls "adopted daughters." To permit the existence of such an evil practice is to recognise it legal.

The 1929 Ordinance should be further amended so that the registration of "adopted daughter" should be effected as early as possible to prevent the mui tsais from being sheltered under the good name of adoption.

During the first and second interview with the Mui Tsai Commission, which lasted nearly two hours and three and half hours respectively, Mr. S. C. Yeung, our representative, made many suggestions, among them is the appointment of a solicitor to take charge of all prosecutions under the Mui Tsai Ordinance, for, according to our opinion, the S.C.A. inspectors have not sufficient knowledge in laws. The other suggestions mentioned in our lengthy Memorandum to the Mui Tsai Commission, I am sorry to say, I am not in the position to disclose.

At the close of the report, Mr. Fu summarized the mui tsai cases dealt by the Society last year, the detail of the cases will be found below in the Chinese Secretary's report.

TRICYCLE STOLEN

Tsoi Kuen, 33, unemployed was charged before Mr. E. Himsforth at the Kowloon Magistracy on Saturday for larceny of a tricycle in Fuk Tsun Street. The complainant was Ng Ping, a coal brick maker.

Sub-Inspector Rogers said that the complainant left the tricycle on a vacant ground where he often kept it when the machine was not in use.

On October 6 the defendant was seen by a detective in Shanghai Street trying to sell the tricycle. The detective came up and questioned him and the former admitted that he had stolen it.

The value of the tricycle was $30 and had been recovered.

The defendant was fined $5 or 2 weeks in jail.

ANNUAL REPORT
The annual report of the Chinese Secretary of the Anti-Mui Tsai Society, read as follows:—

This Society has been in existence for more than ten years. During this period, it has not relaxed in its efforts for the emancipation of mui tsai. In this connection, we should tender our heartfelt gratitude to the enlightened Government of Hong Kong who has regarded the ill-treatment of mui tsai as a serious offence. In the light of the suppressive measures taken against the oppression of mui tsai, such a practice should have been unknown. But the facts remain to show that the law is still openly violated.

There are cases in which very young mui tsai, from three to five years old, have suffered mercilessly at the hands of their mistresses. From my own observation, the greatest obstacle to the emancipation of mui tsai is the system of adopted daughters. Rare indeed is the transaction of mui-tsai since the Ordinance against it was promulgated, but on the other hand, the adoption of girls as daughters has been more frequently practised by the clever mistresses who find it a means of escaping from justice. Thus mui tsai is kept under the guise of adopted daughters. This practice has been the direct and indirect source of all evils, such as sly prostitution, Cho Chu Fa, etc. Hence the registration of adopted daughters is an urgent need, from the standpoint of social justice. But we regret to mention that there are members of the community who still hold that the mui tsai system should be preserved and that the registration of adopted daughters is inexpedient.

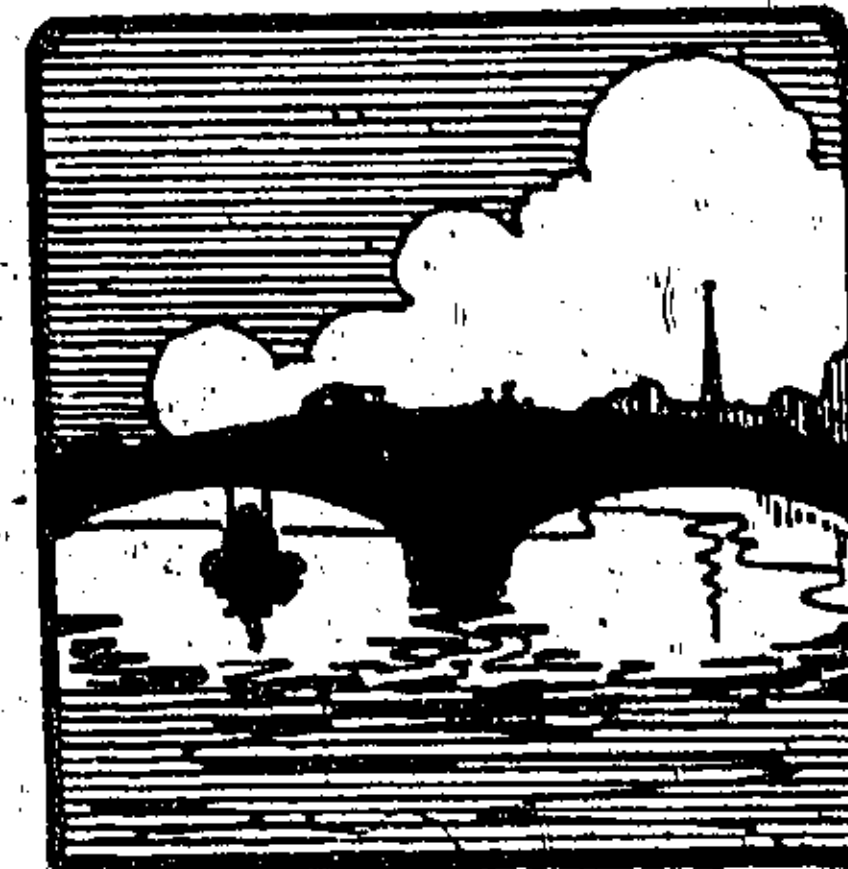

In spite of this, the reports to this Society have greatly diminished. This is undoubtedly due to the high sense of duty and the untiring efforts on the part of the Government inspectors who deserve our highest tribute. However, from the daily news, we still learn that there are several cases in which girls of an extremely tender age, from 3 to 8 years, have been oppressed by their mistresses. The facts are most bewildering, for as far back as 1929, an Ordinance had been passed by the Government for the suppression of the transaction of mui tsai, and based on this calculation, there should be no mui tsai under the age of ten. Hence where the mui tsai have come, is indeed a riddle. As the Chinese population in Hong Kong is large, we have no doubt that there many such cases that have not been discovered.

Those who raise objections to the registration of mui tsai argue that the institution would cause disturbance among the community. But their anxiety is unfounded, and their views are prejudicial.

REMEMBRANCE SUNDAY AT CATHEDRAL

Wrong Question Asked Ever Since Armistice

SEARCHING SERMON BY THE REV. H. W. BAINES

"To Avert War Or To Make Peace"

A searching sermon on the subject, "To Avert War or to Make Peace" was delivered by the Rev. H. W. Baines in St. John's Cathedral yesterday morning when Remembrance Sunday was observed. Collections taken were in aid of Earl Haig's Fund.

"With Sparta and the Power States of to-day, they sharpen their swords and subjugate their subjects into slaves and surrender their souls," said the preacher. "The fact is that ever since the Armistice we have been asking the wrong question. We have been asking how to avert war rather than how to create and foster peace; and the very steps we take to avert it only increase the danger we fear most. We have been fearful and negative."

The Rev. H. W. Baines said:—It is said of Lord Balfour when a young man that he made a vow to read nothing in the daily paper except what was of national or world importance. His purpose was to escape from descriptions of human death and disaster; not because his heart was dead towards the sufferers but precisely because the more tales of tragedy he read the less he felt. He dreaded, he said, his sense of compassion growing stale, his sympathy being anesthetized.

Are we not to-day in much the same dilemma who fear to open our newspapers lest we should read more ghastly accounts of civil war or hear the menacing thunder of more world warnings told by national oracles? The ordinary man has become dull and insensitive to news that a few years ago would have shocked him into violent action or at least deeply stirred his emotions. This movement away from sensibility is, of course, retrograde towards a primitive callousness, and a sign that we cannot learn the Christian lesson that we are members both personally and nationally one of another. And the pathetic result of it is that in the frightful confusion of our time people tend to say that no principle of action stand out beyond self interest at any given moment. For a moment to accept this counsel is to despair of God and of a moral universe altogether; it is to feed the mind on a diet that makes it ready to run to extremes.

THREE COURSES OF ACTION

Preaching on Remembrance Sunday last year I said that there seemed to me to be three courses of action which a Christian attitude prompted in the international situation. First the readiness of any nation to accept the findings of a fully accredited international tribunal such as the League of Nations in cases where it was involved itself; secondly to recognize that the observance of the Covenant would make neutrality in certain circumstances wrong; and thirdly to work for the control of not the national monopoly of the manufacture of armaments. In the last twelve months each of these hopes has been denied; although the last has been brought nearer in our own country.

CHRISTIAN SPIRIT

There is no wonder then that even the Christian spirit has been tempted to yield to fatalism and pessimism. But through this cloud of weary disillusion and the sense of futility that accompanies it, for me at least, Armistice Day has loomed ahead and I have known that I should have to face the challenge of the Fallen.

I was too young to be personally involved in the Great War but in common with the rest of my generation I cannot be deaf to the meaning of the sacrifice that was made both by those who returned and those who did not, whom we solemnly honour to-day and shall particularly remember on Armistice Day. These men gave their lives in the cause of freedom and human dignity and international justice. It is the proud boast of Britain that it stands for the same tradition in the world to-day. And we are challenged by the Flanders Poppies to ask how far we are keeping the trust for which they thought life itself a price not too great to be paid. I believe that whether consciously or not our elder brothers would have said that the cause for which they risked their lives, the cause of freedom and human dignity and international justice can only be sustained by faith in God and loyalty to the spirit of Christ Jesus.

Against the savagery, therefore, and despair in humanity which are rife in the world to-day we set this Christian tradition. But the Christian cannot work in a vacuum and the ideal solution, the establishing of the reign of God and of man free in His service, has got to be made actual and real in the world we know.

POWER STATES MENACE

What is the background? What is the raw material out of which the kingdom is to be wrought? The most prominent feature in it is that the Christian tradition is menaced by the Power States, ruthlessly sacrificing all values and all compunction for human right to organized military efficiency. That experiment has been tried before. It was the reaction of the State of Sparta when it found its tradition of life threatened by internal and external dangers. And how much has Sparta to its credit? It destroyed Athens and that was all. It killed that noblest experiment in living that the world knew.

It appears then that the Christian and what I believe to be fundamentally the British tradition has got to join issue with a world mentality which has become so deadened and battered that it readily runs to extremes and also the fact that in some parts of the world extremes have already been reached; and where they have been reached it becomes daily more true that the steps which have been taken and are being taken to defend national inheritance result in there being nothing to defend or in their ceasing to be worth defending. As with Sparta so with the Power States of to-day, they sharpen their words and subjugate their subjects into slaves and surrender their souls.

WRONG QUESTION

The fact is that ever since the Armistice we have been asking the wrong question. We have been asking how to avert war rather than how to create and foster peace; and the very steps we take to avert it only increase the danger we fear most. We have been fearful and negative. And this failure of the negative way is the failure of the League of Nations which was born out of fear and engendered by precaution. It serves no purpose to mark how the exhausted world at the end of the war sowed the seed in the Peace Treaties of a quarter of a century's increasing bitterness. We thought that savagery and militarism were destroyed; but what was done to evoke and foster a new spirit of creative understanding and liberty? The evacuated house was left empty; and with no vital faith in a power of healing and renewal it was powerless to resist the suggestions of demoralisation and despair; and seven other spirits yet more fierce, of terror, hatred, violence, cruelty, thronged into the still empty house till the last state was almost worse than the first.

Is it not plain that we are being driven by the relentless discipline of events to see, in the goodness and severity of God, the more constructive and positive ways by which He wills new life for His world.

PERMANENT SOLUTION

If a mad dog gets loose we must shoot it. If there are many mad dogs about it is wise to give the police revolvers; for the time being that will protect the populace. But as the British soldier, sailor and airman would be the first to admit, that won't be any permanent solution. It won't prevent dogs going mad. The constructive way to deal with the situation is to find out the cause of rabies and organize preventative measures. And

Questions To Be Asked To-morrow

AT URBAN COUNCIL

The following is the agenda of the fortnightly meeting of the Urban Council, to be held to-morrow.

Dr. R. A. de Castro Basto, pursuant to notice, will ask:—

(1) Has the Government permanently abandoned the practice of watering the streets in this Colony?

(2) Is it not feasible to resume it by the employment of water carts?

(3) If fresh water is not available throughout the year for this purpose, could not a mixture of fresh and sea water be used instead?

(4) If it is thought that water would make the streets slippery, is it not possible to flush them at night?

these things have their political analogy. The contemporary dictators are symptoms. They are like the Caesars of the camp in the days when the Empire was breaking up, raised to the purple by disaffected legions and knowing no art of government but the bring squad; and that is rather in an ominous parallel. But their only significance is that they were symptoms of a demoralised society; and the only constructive way of dealing with them or of dealing with the international turmoil in which we find ourselves is to discover the causes of demoralisation and to meet them with creative adventures of co-operation in research and cure.

EXAMPLE FROM SCIENCE

Science gives us the example we need. It is impossible to think of national medicine or of Aryan dentistry or of the restriction of the cure of tuberculosis to the one race which discovers it. There is overcrowding of hospitals but is there ever an appeal from one hard pressed unit of the medical profession to another that is not immediately answered if it is humanly possible without regard for nationality? Why?

Let us then get down to making peace in the name of the Fallen and of their grandchildren by inlining our own business well and setting our own house in order and doing what we can to build Jerusalem in England's green and pleasant land and in every outpost of her Empire. Not in insular isolation but in inevitable co-operation. Let us face up to the economic cause of world-wide demoralisation. We aren't beginning to take our problem seriously or to co-operate with God's Will till we start to grapple with economic grievances at home and try to find our way to a new system of administering colonial territories in a spirit of international trusteeship, which is not the same thing as the crude suggestion of handing over natives to dictatorship; and needs far more patience and far more sacrifice.

PERMANENT NEUTRALITY

In a recent remarkable book Mr. Wickham Steed, writing with the mature wisdom of a man who has spent a life-time very near the centre of British and international affairs, said that "in the present organization of international society permanent neutrality in all circumstances was impossible. The same is true in the realm of conscience. It is not enough to say that you are not a dictator or a Jew-hater; it is not enough to say that you are not a communist nor a pacifist; it will only begin to be enough when you can say that in the name of Christ you are doing your bit to make peace, to create good living as well as to avert war. Let us get down to our own domestic, economic and social affairs, and let everybody put his shoulder to the wheel in the name of the Carpenter and let us re-

In accordance with the laws of Hong Kong, registration is applied to births, deaths, the purchase of arms, and even to the keeping of dogs, and yet we have not heard of any public cry against it. Should we regard human beings as inferior to dogs or inanimate objects? It may be recalled that fourteen years ago the voices against the registration of mui tsai were most insistent and threatening, but humanity has made an overwhelming conquest over the formidable forces of conservatism.

It will be remembered that not very long ago, the British Government sent a Mui Tsai Commission to Hong Kong to investigate the existing condition of the mui tsai system. The Commission had arranged two interviews with the representative of this Society, Dr. Yeung Shiu Chuen, in which many enquiries were addressed to our representative. This shows that the English Government is much concerned with the problem. It is hoped that the Commission will furnish the Home Government with the data obtained from their first-hand information and observation, and as a result the legislation for the registration of adopted daughters will be enacted so that the mui tsai system will be wiped out, and the vestige of barbarism vanished forever.

CASES DEALT WITH

The following mui tsai cases were dealt with by this Society this year:

Three reports were sent to the Society, but when enquiries were made, no traces of the persons concerned could be found. One report was sent to the S.C.A. by this Society, and the mui tsai concerned obtain freedom and wages from her mistress. Another report was sent to the S.C.A. and in consequence the mui tsai was sent to Po Leung Kuk, and penalty inflicted on the mistress.

The Society received two reports, but was unable to make any enquiries.

A case of unregistered mui tsai was reported, and as a result the mistress was punished.

A report sent by this Society to the S.C.A. and the mistress fled when enquiries were made.

There were two cases in which the S.C.A. reported that they were adopted daughters.

There was a case in which no sufficient evidence could be obtained. Here was another case in which the mui tsai concerned was sent to Po Leung Kuk by order of the S.C.A.

Mr. Mak Mui-sang said:—I am glad to have been called upon to speak at this annual meeting. The year under review has been, as we all know, one of activities, though success aimed at is still pretty far ahead.

Of course, with the close co-operation of the government, the generous support of the local papers, and the unanimous appreciation of our efforts by the public, we should in no way see that the facilities of uprooting such a base system as girl-slavery are too limited.

What then hinders our work from full growth? May I presume that that hindrance is of a two-fold character? (1) The slave-owners have been keeping mui tsai under the pretence of adopted daughters; (2) We have been too mild to bring out the efficient measure to deal with such a living evil.

Girl-slavery had its origin long ages ago. In many places it succumbed to death after a severe struggle. In others too it easily died a natural death. But the local mui tsai system, I can assure you, cannot be abolished without due cognise and respect without interference but with sympathy, the difficulties of other nations. What we need is the driving power of a new ambition to obey God's Will and to make this world fit for His Kingdom. We need that more than to be terrified by the unutterable pictures of what the next war will be like. "He that is not with me is against me." Our world is leaderless unless Christ be its leader. Our civilisation is aimless unless Christ's Kingdom be its objective. I earnestly believe that our own fellow citizens (and many others on both sides no doubt) when they died to make England or wherever else it was, safe for worthy lives lived in good homes amidst industrious freedom, were not looking for a prize very different from that for which Jesus paid the same price. Unless Christ be our King too and his Kingdom our destiny also, we are without hope. Beneath His banner there is no end, to hope.

efforts, perfect confidence and undaunted courage on our part.

May I quote an instance of slave-freeing from Acts 16:18-23? The slave-girl at issue was one resembling our poor mui tsai here in several instances: First, she had to render services to several masters just as the domestic mui tsai here serving different members of a family. Then she had to earn money for her joint masters. Now in Hong Kong we find that some slave-owners keep mui tsai especially blind girls as singing beggars. Moreover, some slave-girls are sold as concubines.

In spite of the Philippian law granting special privileges to slave-owners St. Paul was yet brave enough to deprive the slave-girl of her ventriloquism thus causing her masters great financial loss. And it was only by crippling her power of fortune-telling that she could have hopes of restoring her freedom.

How much less have we done than Paul when we consider that we are now under circumstances much more favourable to do our emancipation work!

Arise! members of our association, let us be brave to give a faithful response to the claim of the helpless mui tsai!

The Chairman, Mr. Wong Chun Kan, said: We are gathered here to-night to hold the Annual Meeting of this Society. It may be recalled that this Society was founded in July, 1921, and the inauguration ceremony took place on 26th March, 1922. Since then, no less than fifteen general meetings have been held. During this period, the members of this Society have done their utmost for the emancipation of mui tsai, and as a result, a good number of these unfortunates have been restored to their parents or set free. Thus we may say that this Society has not existed in vain. But we much regret to mention that there are still a great number of mui tsai who remain in bondage through their owners' evasion of the law by representing them to be adopted daughters thereby avoiding registration. We are strongly of the conviction that, unless adopted daughters are also registered, mui tsai will always remain with us and the evil cannot be eradicated. The emancipation of mui tsai has only been partially achieved, and we have still to struggle along to carry on the work. The Society welcomed the Mui Tsai Commission when they arrived in Hong Kong and our representatives duly appeared before them to give evidence. In this meeting, I wish to draw your attention to the following matters: (1) It is sincerely hoped that those who report cases of ill-treatment will give ample details and also their real names. (2) Members are earnestly requested to make it their duty to acquaint the public with our aims. (3) We sincerely hope that the government will soon see fit to pass an Ordinance for the registration of adopted daughters, so that the various fraudulent devices so often successfully practised by mui tsai owners may be guarded against and completely frustrated.

May we all look forward to the day when "mui tsai" will become a thing of the past, when these unfortunate girls will see the light of day and enjoy all the blessings of humanity.

PRAISE

No matter from whence it comes, praise is always welcome.

So, it is not unusual to find, notably with visiting performers and some others of that ilk who used not be specified, that they produce press cuttings from most places known to civilization.

"Look at that", they will say with a pride that is swelling if not swell.

"See you", one usually feels inclined to reply, but, all commercial factors considered, one cloaks or smothers one's honest opinion with the mantle of silence.

Recently we had occasion to criticise a certain production by the Hong Kong Travel Association. It was, as we said then, an unworthy production for an organisation which sought to publicise the "Riviera of the Orient". To journalists uninitiated into the rites of Hong Kong, the repercussions from that criticism were truly amazing. To say that they merit a silence eloquent of the most intense contempt is to understate a feeling.

Now, however, the Travel Association has blossomed forth with a copy of a letter from an obscure American source which was given generous space in a morning contemporary. This is not really "sour grapes". Had we been favoured by that letter we would have strictly investigated it in the best interests of our paper as well as the Travel Association.

This letter, as published, states the view of an organisation which purports to be "expert" in the realm of publicity, as saying that the Handbook recently issued by the Hong Kong Travel Association broke new ground. It certainly did, and no one even remotely threatened with publicity intelligence will deny that. But the most amazing fact is that this organisation is accredited with having put Hong Kong on the map in a manner at once original and artistic.

Well, as the policeman said to the drunk, "I may be wrong, but I figure the judge will say I'm right".
As we have already mentioned, we are not very annoyed because we were denied the opportunity of publishing that letter of praise. The Hong Kong Travel Association, controlled and operated by men of mental and spiritual bigness, has victimised the "Hong Kong Daily Press" in the recent past, for being outspoken. We are not even slightly worried.

Yet a word of advice (which will probably be regarded as a veiled insult) which we give in the very best spirit: Do not imagine that the publication of a "pat on the back" can alter in any way a publication which so completely reflected the publicity acumen of the semi-governmental Board of Control. Sometimes you praise people to lull them. We adopt different methods in the best spirit, and we hope the Travel Association will eventually understand that.

SHIPPING ORDINANCE

Amendment To Be Made

HARBOUR MASTER'S NEW POWER

An Ordinance to amend the Merchant Shipping Ordinance 1899, will be enacted by the Governor of Hong Kong, with the advice and consent of the Legislative Council, at the next Council meeting according to a draft bill published in the Government Gazette.

This Ordinance will be cited as the Merchant Shipping Amendment Ordinance, 1936. Sub-section (14) of section 39 will be amended by the addition of the words, "without the written permission of the Harbour Master," at the end thereof.

This Ordinance shall not come into operation unless and until the Governor notifies by Proclamation that it is His Majesty's pleasure not to disallow the same and thereafter it shall come into operation upon such day as the Governor shall notify by the same or any other Proclamation.

OBJECTS AND REASONS

The objects and reasons of this amendment are that under section (39) of Ordinance No. 10 of 1899, no junk except a licensed fishing junk can leave any port at night.

Clause 2 of this bill is to enable the Harbour Master to give written permission to other junks to leave at night. This is considered necessary especially in order to facilitate the movements of authorised sand junks.

Clause 3 is the suspending clause usual in Ordinances relating to Merchant Shipping.

ANOTHER AMENDMENT

Certain amendments to the Merchant Shipping (Life-Saving Appliances) Regulations, 1935, will be brought into effect by the Governor in Council in exercise of his powers conferred by section 10 (6) and section 13 (1) of the Merchant Shipping Ordinance, 1899.

In the amendments "Table A" will be prefixed to the said regulations, while regulation 100 will be amended by the addition of the following words at the end thereof:—

"And these regulations are substituted therefore as Table A in the schedule to the said Merchant Shipping Ordinance. The Merchant Shipping (Life-Saving Appliances) Regulations, 1935, was published in the Gazette on May 15, this year as Government Notification No. 438.

CHINESE AIR MAIL LETTERS

Regulation 30, an addition of the Post Office Ordinance, 1926, will be rescinded by the Governor in Council in exercise of the powers conferred in the above ordinance, and will be substituted with the following addition, effective November 5:

"Letters will be accepted at Hong Kong for transmission by the Chinese Air Mail Service to destinations in China at the rate of 35 cents per half ounce unit. The charge is inclusive of the regular postage."

Regulation 30 of the Post Office Ordinance was published as Government Notification No. 106 in the Gazette of January 31, this year.

HONG KONG RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Large Attendance At Week-End Shoot

Difficult Conditions

At the week-end "Spoon" and Practice Shoot held, by the courtesy of the Naval Authorities, on the Naval Range at Stonecutters, on Saturday afternoon, an unusually large number of competitors attended, in spite of the fact that the number of members from the Dockyard Rifle Club was much lower than usual owing to a swimming gala being held by that organisation elsewhere; had it not been for this decrease, it would have been exceedingly difficult for shooting to have finished before darkness set in.

There was a universal lowering of all scores, due chiefly to the wind, which not only blew at a varying strength throughout the afternoon, but was constantly changing in direction. Light also was by no means all that could be desired, and the result was that those who were able to get their shots away in a minimum of time, came easily at the top, for the simple reason that the slower shots found, time after time, that while they were "hanging on," before pressing the trigger, the wind had veered round in direction, and had either increased or decreased in strength.

The winner of the "Nett" Spoon in the S.R. (B) Class was A.B. A. E. Bowerman, R.N., of H.M.S. "Medway," with a score of 94; this competitor tied with Lieut. Ratcliffe of the 1st Bn. Royal Ulster Rifles, but won the spoon under the regulation which gives priority to the competitor who makes the higher score at the longest distance. The winner of the "Handicap" Spoon in this Class was Rtn. J. Murphy of the 1st Bn. Royal Ulster Rifles whose nett score was 88. In the S.R. (a) Class, the "Handicap" Spoon was won by Sgt. Warwick of the Royal Marines who, incidentally, would also have won the "Nett" Score Spoon, had one been awarded, since his actual score was well ahead of all other competitors.

An illustrated booklet has been published by the Council of the Association, giving full particulars as to the Association's activities, for the particular benefit and information of prospective individual full members. An application form for such membership is enclosed at the end of the publication, so that it may be filled in, and detached, and sent with the appropriate subscription to the Honorary Secretary, by those who wish to join. Copies of this booklet are being distributed next week to the Honorary Secretaries of all the Affiliated Rifle Clubs, while a copy will be gladly sent, on application being made to the Honorary Secretary direct, to any person interested in rifle-shooting.

The leading scores made on Saturday afternoon are as follows:

JAPANESE BID IN PIECE-GOODS

It is reported that the market for cotton and woollen fabrics in Hong Kong during the past five years has been entirely captured by goods of Japanese manufacture.

The consumption of British goods has fallen from 20,000 pieces to 400 pieces during the last five years. The fall in the consumption of British cotton and woollen fabrics commenced after the conclusion of the Great War, and has continued up to date, notwithstanding a reduction in prices.

Goods of European manufacture have little or no chance in the markets of the Far East to-day, and American as well as British manufactures are suffering severely from Japanese competition, so much so, that business is daily on the decline.

triplicate, which should be clearly marked "Tender for Police Blockhouse at Tai Kiu Ling," will be received at the Colonial Secretary's Office until noon of Monday, November 23. The works consist of the erection of a two storied brick building to be used as a Police Blockhouse enclosed by a barbed wire apron fence.

As security for the proper performance of the works under this contract, the successful tenderer will be required to deposit, in cash, a sum of $5,000 with the Colonial Treasurer, which sum will be retained for a period of six months from the date of completion of the works in lieu of the usual retention money.

No work will be permitted on Sundays.

SUIYUAN FEARS INVASION

Mongol Irregulars On Move

Shanghai, Nov. 7.
The attention of the nation is focussed on Suiyuan, where the situation is reported to be critical as the result of an attempted invasion of the province by Mongol irregulars from Chahar.

The Chinese press reports that the Mongols who penetrated into the Pailin and Hsingho districts were driven off by Suiyuan provincial troops, but it is feared that a more vigorous attack is imminent. The Chinese Government is closely watching the situation, according to despatches from Nanking, which add that the invaders are well supplied with large quantities of munitions as well as ample funds.

It is believed here that the fighting will be localised, as neither the Chinese nor Japanese Government is likely to intervene directly, but the Suiyuan troops are expected to offer stout resistance. Chinese political circles interpret the events as an attempt to carve another slice of Chinese territory, in pursuance of Japan's plan to create an anti-Soviet buffer State on China's northern frontier.

NEW SPANISH
REGIMEGerman Recognition
May Be Accorded

Berlin, Nov. 7.
Immediate German acknowledgement of the new Spanish Government in Madrid should be proclaimed by General Franco, is envisaged in the German press, though according to an official spokesman Germany would not make such an acknowledgement before the new Government completely controlled the country.
It is expected that Britain and France will withhold acknowledgement until the new Government is confirmed by election.—

ITALY'S ATTITUDE

Rome, Nov. 7.
It is believed that Italy will recognise General Franco's Government as soon as the insurgents are actually in control of Madrid, but no indication of impending recognition was given officially.—

WAR VETERAN
COMMITTEEEx-Servicemen's
Proposal

(Hong Kong Daily Press) Special.
Rome, Nov. 7.
As a meeting of representatives of ex-servicemen of fourteen nations, including here by Italian ex-servicemen's organisations on the occasion of the opening of the home for war victims, it was decided to form an international committee of war veterans.

This proposal was made by the leader of the German delegation, the Duke of Coburg, after the president of the Italian war victims association, Decorous, had made a moving appeal to all ex-soldiers to do everything in their power to avoid another war.

The nations represented at the conference were Belgium, France, Great Britain, Bulgaria, Germany, Greece, Italy, Austria, Hungary, Poland, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, United States of America and Yugoslavia, and which will be entitled to one vote in the committee and be represented by three regular and two deputy delegates.—

TO ITALY

Rumania Will Fight

Bucharest, Nov. 6.
A militant reply to Signor Benito Mussolini's references to Hungary, in his recent speech at Milan, was made to-day by M. Iuliu Maniu, leader of the Peasant Party and a former Prime Minister.

Far from being mutilated, as Signor Mussolini claimed, he declared, Hungary remained inside her racial frontiers.

"Any attack over those frontiers will mean war, which we shall fight fanatically," he warned.

Professor Iorga, another former Prime Minister, calls for national unity to resist all attempts to tamper with Rumania's sacred rights.—

CHILDREN LOST

Madrid, Nov. 8.
The capital spent an anxious and sleepless night awaiting the dawn and the cannonade which it was feared would be the prelude to the severe street fighting when the insurgents cross the Manzanares bridge.

The official radio throughout the night broadcast the names and descriptions of thousands of children lost during the street fighting on the outskirts of the capital yesterday.

Late in the evening insurgent planes dropped leaflets proclaiming the intention to open the final advance to-day and warning women, children and non-combatants to leave the fighting zone, and particularly to evacuate public buildings which are regarded as military objectives and will be bombed.—

London, Nov. 7.
The Spanish Government has left Madrid for Valencia, leaving behind only the War Commissariat according to information reaching foreign diplomatic circles in London.

It was confirmed later in official sources in London that the Spanish Government left Madrid, leaving behind a Military Governor. The flight of the Spanish Government to Valencia is expected to open the way to the easy capture of the capital. Nevertheless, the fall of Madrid is not likely to mean the immediate end of the civil war. The members of the Government are holding out in Catalonia, which is their main stronghold, as well as Malaga, Valencia and Barcelona on the east coast. Minorca, the Basque centre, Bilbao, and other isolated spots around Oviedo, and in the Asturias.—

Reuter's special correspondent with the insurgents says that General Varela's troops are pressing forward to the west of Madrid and a battle is being fought in most bitter cold weather. There are many indications that the resistance of the Government militia is collapsing, including the abandonment of quantities of unused war material.—

BRITISH NATIONALS
IN MADRID

Accommodated At Embassy

London, Nov. 7.
Press reports state that the Spanish Government this morning left Madrid for Valencia, leaving its control with the military Government.

It is understood there are about two hundred British nationals in Madrid. Arrangements had already been made for their accommodation in the British Embassy and adjacent buildings in the event of an emergency arising.

Mr. Ogilvie Forbes, the British Charge d'Affaires in Madrid, was in telephonic communication with the Foreign Office at London late this afternoon. At that time about one hundred British nationals were assembled at the Embassy. All were reported well.

Fighting was then proceeding in the south and west of Madrid and the attacking forces appeared to be entering mainly from the direction of the model prison on the western edge of the city.—

MADRID REPORTS
TO LONDONConditions In City
Almost Normal

London, Nov. 7.
Latest reports from Madrid temper the announcement that the insurgents are actually in the city and state that the Government militia are holding their ground.

The Spanish Embassy in London was assured at 6.45 p.m. that conditions in the city were almost normal. The radio was broadcasting as usual, the only difference being that where ten people were usually working there are now only three owing to the exodus of able-bodied males to the firing line.

Sixteen Government planes circled over the capital all day long keeping the insurgent machines at bay. Government artillery was continually shelling the insurgent positions and in some instances the militia forced the enemy to retire, securing a total of 330 Moorish prisoners.

The Embassy was also informed that the people are still enthusiastically prepared to defend the city to the end and are remaining optimistic despite the hardship of the terrible fighting.—

ANNOYEDFalse Report Of Capture

JACA RADIO FINED

Gibraltar, Nov. 7.
General de Llano has fined the Jaca radio for announcing falsely that Madrid had been captured.

In broadcasting to-night General de Llano did not claim the capture of Madrid. He stated that the insurgents had reached the banks of the Manzanares, on the outskirts of the capital, and claimed that the bridges at Manzanares were captured, but he added this was unofficial.

The capture of the bridges has not been confirmed.—
Reuter.

INSURGENT A.M

Lisbon, Nov. 7.
The insurgents' objective on Saturday was not full occupation of the capital but only certain key positions whence they can advance to the centre of the city.

Details of the day's fighting show that the insurgents, following a two-hour bombardment which destroyed the Government front line and defence works, launched attacks by African infantry assisted by a hundred tanks, many armoured tanks and flame-throwers.

The insurgents admit that their air force did little owing to the bad weather, but despite this handicap the Government aeroplanes were especially busy raiding the advancing columns, and they also descended from the clouds in an attempt to bomb Leganes where General Varela's headquarters are established.—

LOCAL SOCCER

South China "A" Beat Fusiliers

LARGE CROWD AT CAROLINE HILL

(BY VOX POPULI)

Hardly a record-breaking, but nevertheless an immense crowd, assembled yesterday afternoon to witness the tit-bit of the week-end football, the long looked for tussle between South China "A" and the Royal Welch Fusiliers. Long before the scheduled time for the commencement of the game, vast crowds thronged the turnstiles. Promptly at 4.15 p.m. Referee Paine lined up the following teams:—

South China "A":—Pau Ka-ping; Lee Tin-sang, Lau Mau; Leung Wing-chui, Lau Hing-choi, Lee Kwok-wai; Tso Kwai-shing, Lai Shui-wing, Fung King-cheong, Tam Kwong-pak, Ip Pak-wah.

R.W.F.:—Rowlands; Wheeler, Keatings; Taylor, Kernaghan, Wanklyn; Parry, Sullivan, Evans, Talbot and Hughes.

Linesmen:—Lane and Owen.

The Fusiliers won the toss and Fung King-cheong kicked off. A foul against South China in the first minute had no effect. A lovely passing movement commencing from Leung Wing-chui proved fruitless and play veered to the other end where the Fusiliers were awarded a corner. A resultant foul taken by Taylor was beautifully saved by Pau. Free kicks were frequent, both sides being penalised. Play was remaining largely in the South China half but a swift incursion saw Fung King-cheong almost score. Rowlands, however, rose to the occasion. A corner at the other end was capably cleared by the South China backs. In a few moments another corner to the Fusiliers proved abortive. Play now veered to the Fusiliers, and where Rowlands had to save from Lai Shui-wing. Back again went the play and in a tussle in South China's goalmouth Talbot drove over. Following this escape, South China broke away and a long passing movement originating from the half backs gave them the lead through Fung King-cheong just as the half-time whistle blew.

Half-time:—South "A" 1, R.W.F. 0.

On resumption, the Fusiliers quickly broke away and Talbot was brought down heavily inside the area. He took the kick himself and drove over, however, to the accompaniment of moans from the Military spectators. Play in this half was desultory, the Fusiliers appearing to have lost their grip on the game and were kicking at random. South China were playing a very pleasing brand of football and a brilliant shot by Lai Shui-wing was cleverly cleared by Rowlands. Continued pressure was bound to tell, however, and South China went further ahead through a brilliant goal shot by Tam Kwong-pak. Play continued up and down, both ends being visited in turn. A battle of wits between Taylor and Tso Kwai-shing on the right wing brought numerous witty comments from the crowd. From now until the final whistle went, play was concentrated chiefly in midfield.

Full-Time:—South China "A" 2, R.W.F. 0.

For the visitors, Talbot, Keatings and Rowlands were outstanding while Tam Kwong-pak and Fung King-cheong played a sterling game for the homesters.

CLUB VICTORY

Fielding a weakened team that included two reserves, Wanklyn and Sloan who deputised for Nicholls and Fleming, who were absentees, the Club gave a sparkling display, nevertheless, and defeated the Chinese Athletic by three goals to one on the home ground at Happy Valley on Saturday.

Farrow gave the Club an early lead which they increased through Blackford who made the best of a good pass from Fowler on the right wing.

Early in the second half the Chinese were awarded a penalty but they failed to score. Shortly after Chin Chi Fung registered the Chinese goal but towards the end Blackford deflected the ball into the net with a neat header.

EAST LANCs LOSE

Playing at Sookunpoo on Saturday afternoon in the Senior division of the football league, South China "B" were fortunate indeed to defeat the East Lancashire Regiment by four goals to one.

INTER-SECTION HOCKEY FINAL

Argonauts Beat H.K. Club

W.A. REED SHINES

A goal scored by L. Gosano, left wing, during the first half, gave the Argonauts victory over the Hong Kong Hockey Club by 1-0 in the final of the civilian section of the Inter-Section Hockey tournament, played at King's Park yesterday morning. There was a large crowd of spectators present to witness the game.

Prominent for the winners were F. Nolsaco, in the forward line, and L. Oliveira and R. Marques, who were very steady in the intermediate line of defence. Angelo, while displaying neat stick work in the forward line was inclined to be selfish at times when a pass would have brought better results.

W. A. Reed, in the pivotal position, was a tower of strength for the Club, and played a wonderful game throughout. B. I. Blackford, at inside-left, was also prominent but N. A. E. Mackay, on the right wing, was starved.

ITALIAN ENTERPRISE.

In the frenzied competition for trade witnessed in the various commodities to-day, the Italians are moving forward another step when they open their showrooms in the Colony with a showing of the latest in Fiat automobiles.

Plans are not quite completed but an early announcement will be made in the "Daily Press," as to their location.

after the latter had enjoyed most of the play.

After an early lead of two goals scored in the first 12 minutes, the Chinese packed their goal and this had its compensation for the few occasions that the soldiers were smothered, and this rattled them.

Yeung Shui Yick and Chan Tak Fai shared the goals scored by the Chinese while Smith scored for the soldiers.

RIFLES IN FORM

Playing without the services of both Doherty and Hartigan the soldiers yet found themselves victorious against the Recreio by the score of 4-1 at the end of their football match played on Saturday.

Ferguson started scoring for the Rifles within a few minutes of the kick-off, while Gosano unfortunately kicked in a goal against his own side in an endeavour to stop a shot from Campbell.

The second half of the game found the soldiers in great form, and Moore and Ferguson each scored a goal.

Gomes of the Recreio, managed to shoot in a low shot beyond Cannon's reach, for the only point by the losers.

POLICE AGAIN LOSE

Handicapped by the absence of Blackburn, full back for the police, and probably suffering from the demoralising effect of losing all their games so far this season, the Police first XI lost by four goals to nil to the Eastern on Saturday.

The poor showing of the police throughout the entire game accounted their defeat and McHardy, the goalie, found the marksmanship of his opponents too much for him.

Sabbhan scored first for the Eastern, followed by a hat-trick from the boots of Sung Ling-sing.

BERLIN SHARE MARKET

("Hong Kong Daily Press" Special)

Berlin, Nov. 7.

The Share market on Saturday was less optimistic in tone than on Friday, the chief reason being that buoyancy induced on Friday by the news that restrictions on traffic in foreign securities that had been feared would not take place was offset by the fact that it had in the meanwhile been found that in practice more care is to be exercised in accepting securities as collateral. This caused foreign shares to fall, home shares following in sympathy. Nevertheless, this weakness did not apply to all sections of the market.

Fixed interest securities were likewise depressed, foreign bonds being weak and home bonds sagging in sympathy.

Mexican bonds were especially weak because in addition to the effect of the general rule that foreign bonds are less available for collateral than heretofore there seems to be ground for believing that sudden hopes that the debt service on the Mexican government bonds would soon be resumed were over-optimistic.

The turnover in German bonds was small.

Call money 2 to 2½. Young loan rose from 1 to 103½. Reichsbanks lower to 190½. Dystrosts dropped 2½ to 173 1/8. Selzdeftuth Potash weakened 2 to 195. United Steelworks declined 1½ to 122½. German Mineral Oils 1½ lower to 143½. Siemens-Schalske slumped 3 to 203. Bernberg Rayon 2 lower to 113.

NEW REICH LOAN

A great sensation in the past week was the announcement of the issue of the new Reich loan dealt with fully by cable.

This event came as no surprise as liquidity in the market had reached the degree that necessitated new opportunities for investment if the risk that capital would begin to be misapplied was to be averted.

The bourse seems to be convinced that the new loan will be absorbed without disturbing the investment market. It is now stated in various quarters that the issue of Reich loans will be more frequent than heretofore but amounts in general will be kept small so as not to overtax the resources of either money or the capital market.

Attention in the share market during the week was specially concentrated on shares of companies engaged in production, metals and other raw stuffs because of the strain which is generally expected from operation of the new four-year plan. Thus cellulose machine and electrical ware shares were all firm.

Fixed interest securities remained steady.

THE SHARE MARKET

Harriman's Weekly Review

Saturday, Nov. 7.

Messrs. G.A. Harriman & Co.'s weekly share report and market review issued at noon to-day states:—

This week we are departing from our usual formal report and intend to point out the present aspect and prospects of both the local and Manila markets.

The Hong Kong share market is at the moment in a state of (shall we describe it as) suspended animation. It is neither weak nor can it be said to be firm, but just inactive. Trade, in Great Britain is as we all know, better than it has been for many a day and the old country is prosperous. The result of the American presidential election means a continuance of the present policy in that rich country, which is rapidly emerging from the days of depression and entering again on an era of prosperity. Hong Kong was one of the last places to feel the effect of the world depression, and by the same token, it is not unlikely that it will be slowest to react to the improving trade of the world's two most important countries. Relations between Hong Kong and Canton are more cordial than they have been for some fifteen years. The one adverse factor is the uncertain political situation in North China, but we believe this to be exaggerated and think that the sincere interest now being shown by our Home government in Far Eastern affairs and its sympathetic attitude towards the Nanking government should allay fears of any really serious political upheaval.

Many of our leading stocks, stand at attractive prices, giving yields of from 4½ to 6½, and purchases made at present levels should give discerning buyers substantial profits, so soon as confidence returns and timid investors regain courage. A selection of the following shares is therefore recommended:—Hong Kong Electric, Hong Kong Trams, Hong Kong & Shanghai Hotel's, Hong Kong & Whampoa Docks, Star Ferries, Yau-mai Ferries, Dairy, Hong Kong & Kowloon Wharves, China Providents (old) and China Light & Power.

The Manila market has enjoyed several months of continually advancing prices, so that the recent period of inactivity and comparatively slight decline in values was only to be expected. A great number of new promotions has detracted from the established shares, many of which have been sold (at very substantial profits) by holders to re-invest in the newer companies.

The producing companies continue to maintain splendid outputs and each fresh month's returns establish greater and greater confidence in the Philip-

It is thought not unlikely that the United States price for gold may later be fixed at an even higher figure than the present one of $35 per oz and should this eventuate, the mines must benefit considerably. So we have no fear that a serious set-back will occur, and on the contrary suggest that selected purchases made near present levels will prove remunerative.

There is in fact more general enquiry towards the close, and the tone of the market is firm.

KEELUNG INCIDENT

CHEONG—CHEONG

BEER CONSUMED IN TAXI
Having missed their last train at Taihoku, the sailors are said to have hired Tel to take them to Keelung for Y.S. When boarding the car, they carried three bottles of beer, one of which they consumed on the way.

Arriving in Keelung, the report continues, they left the car and entered the Cafe Daruma without paying their fare. Tel followed them and demanded to be paid.

Failing to obtain any satisfaction, the report goes on, Tel proceeded to a police box where he made a complaint. Accompanied by Policeman Susumu Nakamura, an interpreter, a party of police headed by Sergeant Hanichi Tashiro went to the Cafe Daruma. When the police began questioning the three sailors—J. J. Turner, of H. M. S. "Odin"; H. J. Smith and G. R. Harrison, respectively, of H. M. S. Bruce and H. M. S. Rover—a petty-officer, who gave his name as S. Allgood, intervened and said he had seen Turner pay the taxi driver.

Allgood, the report stated, said he had changed Y.10 note for Turner, giving the latter two Y.5 notes, one of which the sailor asserted he had used to pay the taxi driver. OFFER TO PAY SECOND TIME
The policemen immediately turned on Tel and searched his pockets, finding one Y.10 note and a Y.11 note, in addition to small change.

In the circumstances, the three sailors were escorted to the Keelung Police Station where they were questioned by Sub-Inspector Yoshida.

Allgood proceeded to call Lieut Beresford, who appeared at the police station shortly afterwards and asked for the men's release. The time was then 3.30 o'clock. The British officer, it is alleged, was not in uniform.

When questioned by Sub-Inspector Yoshida, Turner is reported to have offered to pay "for a second time." As this implied that the driver was charging a double fare, this was refused, the sailors being urged to admit that they had lied at the outset and recognize that they were in the wrong. When they refused to do so, they were left in a room, while Yoshida left the station for an hour.

Returning at five o'clock Yoshida again found Lieut. Beresford awaiting him. The officer, it is said, had changed into a uniform. After consultation, with Policeman Nakamura, acting as interpreter, Lieut. Beresford was allowed to question the men. This he did in the presence of Yoshida.

"SIGNED STATEMENT"
When questioned by the British officer, Smith is alleged to have stated that he had not paid the fare as it had been agreed between them that Turner was to do so. Harrison is reported to have said the same. Turner, the police report states, told the officer that he had "forgotten" to pay.
Following this admission, the men were taken back to the office of Sub-Inspector Yoshida where they are said to have written the following statement and apologized.

"To the Chief Officer of Police, Keelung.
"Last night, Wednesday, the 8th of October, at 12.30 a.m., we travelled from the capital, Taihoku, to Keelung by taxi at a charge of Y.6. Being under the influence of drink we failed to pay the taxi driver. After being detained at the police station for the night, we realized what we had done. We are very sorry for the trouble we have caused.
"We wish to submit our sincere apologies.
(Signed) H. G. Smith,
J. J. Turner,
George Robert Harrison."

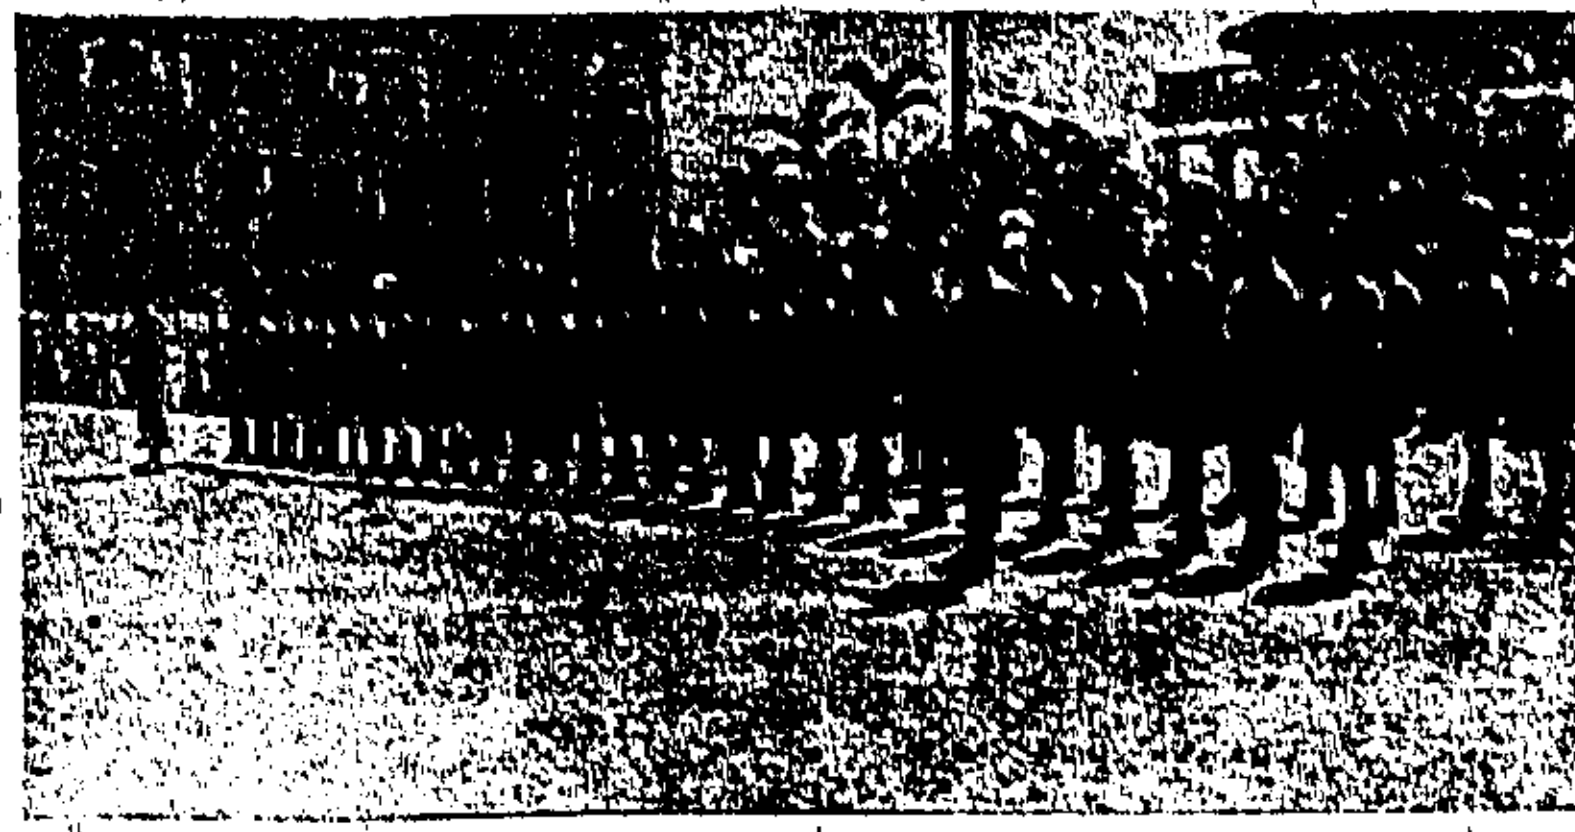

The sailors, the report said, left the station at six o'clock accompanied by Lieut. Beresford. The ships remained in Keelung for two days after this occurred but no action was taken by the British authorities during that time, officials here declared. Domei.

concerning the alleged mistreatment of three British sailors at Keelung by the Japanese police, and informed him of the results of the Court of Enquiry at Hong Kong.
Mr. Horinouchi replied that the most careful judicial investigation had shown that the conduct of the Japanese police was entirely in accord with the announcement by the Government-General of Formosa. There was no wrongful behaviour on the part of the Japanese police.
It is semi-officially stated that Sir Robert Clive was dissatisfied with the Japanese reply and promised to submit details of the Hong Kong Court of Enquiry's hearing, and to take up the incident later.

Boy Scouts' Campfire Display

The next item was a display of Wand Drill by the 1st Hong Kong Sea Scout Pack of Wolf Cubs, and simultaneously an exhibition of Rope Spinning by selected Scouts from the 1st (Sea Scout) and 4th (Murray) Hong Kong, and 1st (St. Andrew's) and 4th (Garrison) Kowloon Troops. The latter act attracted more attention on account of the performers' excellent control of the ropes. This item was enlivened by the sudden appearance of a "comic horse" provided by the Deep Sea Scouts, which put the spectators in good humour.

PIONEERING AND BRIDGE-BUILDING

Then followed an exhibition of pioneering and bridge-building by Scouts of the 1st (St. Joseph's), 4th (Murray), 7th (King's College), 10th (St. Paul's) and 15th (Wah Yan College) Hong Kong; and 1st (St. Andrew's), 4th (Garrison), 7th (Kowloon City), and 11th (Wah Yan College) Kowloon Troops. This was undoubtedly the best item on the programme and the various structures built formed a pleasing ensemble with the Scout Badge hoisted on sheer-legs in the background. Among the structures were a trestle bridge, signalling towers and flagstaffs. The Scouts were assisted by the Deep Sea Scouts in this item.

A Torchlight Figure Marching by the combined Wolf Cub Packs was followed by a demonstration of rescue from shipwreck by use of the rocket life-saving apparatus, by the 1st Hong Kong (Sea Scout) Troop. Three "sailors" were spectacularly pulled in to safety from their "sinking ship" by means of a line-buoy.

"PANDORA'S BOX"

An exhibition of Physical Drill and Pyramids by the 1st (St. Joseph's), 2nd (Catholic Cathedral), and 15th (Wah Yan) Hong Kong; and 3rd (Catholic), 11th (Wah Yan College), 13th (St. Teresa's) and 14th (Rosary Church) Kowloon Troops, was next presented, which the Girl Guides followed with a sketch entitled "Pandora's Box." The latter was performed by the 1st Hong Kong (Garrison) Company of Girl Guides.

Next followed a demonstration of tent-pitching and uses of the Scout Staff by Scouts of the 1st (Sea Scout), 1st (St. Joseph's), 4th (Murray) and 10th (St. Paul's) Hong Kong; and 1st (St. Andrew's), 4th (Garrison) and 8th (Shamshulpo) Kowloon Troops and an exhibition of illuminated club-swinging by the 1st Hong Kong (St. Joseph's College) Troop.

AN APPEAL TO THE PUBLIC

The Rev. N. V. Halward (Commissioner) then addressed a fervent appeal to the Hong Kong public to support the Boy Scout movement here. He pointed out the good work done by the Boy Scouts to reduce a deficit of $9,000 in their accounts. Every troop in Hong Kong was contributing towards this by raising money each in their own way but the task is a great one for them. The Commissioner then thanked those who attended the Campfire Display and stated that by a sum of over $500 had been raised.
Various songs choruses and yells by the combined Cubs, Scouts and Guides were then presented, including a musical item by visiting Macao Scouts, and a parade of colours was held in the arena. Chinese Boy Scouts from Chungshan were among the groups.

The programme concluded with the Royal Ulster Rifles band playing "God Save the King" after which a Deep Sea Scout sounded "Lights Out" on his bugle.
